The information you provide to us about aspects such as your ethnicity and religion in the Equality Monitoring Form will be passed to Scottish Government as we are required to report on this information under the Equality Act (2010).

How do we protect your information?

MGT and Skills Development Scotland maintain a high standard of both physical and network security designed to protect paper or electronic forms of storage to hold and process your personal information.

Information that we hold about you will be subject to rigorous safeguards to ensure that it isn't accessed or disclosed inappropriately. We also take steps to ensure that your information is not damaged or rendered unavailable to those who have a right to see it. To meet confidentiality requirements for our customers, stakeholders, and staff, MGT and Skills Development Scotland has Confidentiality, Data Protection, Information Technology, and Systems notices in place and we ensure that staff are fully aware of these and the associated guidance in relation to your personal information. These also apply when we dispose of paper records and delete electronic information in ways that ensure that your information cannot be recreated.

How long do we store your information?

Once you have been verified as an apprentice under the MA Programme by MGT, your personal data submitted to SDS by you and MGT will be retained by SDS from the date it is provided until:

- 31st December 2026, for the purposes of monitoring and auditing checks performed in relation to the European Social Fund.
- A period of 12 years after the completion of your course, for the purposes of research and analysis that aims to understand the long-term outcomes of individuals who have completed a Modern Apprenticeship, so that we can improve our service and better meet the needs of people across Scotland.

The contact information of the Employer's representative will also be held from the date it is provided until 31st December 2026, in line with how long we hold the apprentice's data for monitoring and auditing purposes.

If you require any further detail or clarification on how long we will keep your personal information for and our reason for doing so, please feel free to get in touch with us through the contact information provided in the contact section below.

Your Rights

Under Data Protection legislation – including the GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018 - you have a number of rights in relation to how your personal information is processed.
